

Coleman Aycock
Vice President Leasing, Duke Realty Corporation

Aycock's responsibilities are primarily focused on the successful leasing and marketing of Duke Realty's commercial office developments in Franklin and Brentwood.

A 22-year resident of Williamson County, Aycock feels the single biggest challenge for Franklin is managing the continued level of growth it is certain to experience, both corporately and residentially, in such a manner that the character of the City of Franklin will not be lost.

Aycock's leadership activities span the arenas of business and industry, human service, and civic organizations including Advisory Council of ARC for Salvation Army, active member and long-term President; National Society of Office and Industrial Brokers, serving as Chapter President, Vice-President, and Secretary; Franklin 2020 Planning Group; and Brentwood Chamber of Commerce, Board Member (1997-1999).

Aycock's Bachelor of Arts degree is from the University of Georgia, where he was a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity.

With respect to his upcoming Leadership Franklin experience, Aycock feels it is an honor and a responsibility to serve in such a capacity that would allow him involvement in the preservation for future generations of the values and sense of community that make Franklin the special place it is. He states, "I look for a sense of personal satisfaction in being able to give back of my time and what talent I may have to further preserve the character of the City of Franklin."
